Tide

The new land

When I landed on the sky turtle my legs almost gave away but I just managed to stable myself and get a good grip. This was going to be a rocky ride jumping on that turtle was my only choice. Without the rudder I couldn't steer the ship and I couldn't find enough food. My fishing rod broke when I was catching a large fish also I dropped a cup of tea on my map so I'm totally lost. I just hope these Turtles take me some were good

When I woke up I fought I was dreaming. This land was beautiful crystal blue water fountains splashed gently against the rubbery rocks. And huge red trees towered over me like sky scrapper's .This land had its own animals blue monkey's with four eyes and huge claws grass hopers the size of rats. But the turtles weren't stopping here they kept on going.

They went to this huge brown tree with a huge hole in it big enough for them to fit through. This was not your normal land this might have even been in a different dimension for all I knew but it defiantly was a magical land. Inside the tree it was warm like inside a house this is were I jumped off the giant turtle the ground was soft. I climbed out of the hole and looked around this amazing land. This couldn't be real.

wow: What a strange land!

now: Never, ever, ever, ever use an apostrophe to make a noun plural