Appendix 1

Procedure for Subject Access Requests

1. Making a subject access request

- 1.1 An individual from the age of 13 is only entitled to access their own personal data, and not to information relating to other people. Individuals with parental responsibility may make requests for personal information relating to their child (under the age of 13), unless we determine that the child has the capacity to make their own decisions about their personal information. In these circumstances, we will discuss the request with the child and take their views into account when making a decision. A child with competency to understand can refuse to consent to the request for their personal data.
- 1.2 For a subject access request to be valid, it must be made in writing e.g. letter, email or fax. It is helpful if the person requesting the information identifies the request as a 'subject access request' and addresses the request to the TLAT COO.
- 1.3 The request must be sufficiently detailed to enable us to identify and find the personal data covered by the request. If we are unsure, we can request further information. Until this further information is received, we do not need to comply with the subject access request.
- 1.4 We are also entitled to request information to judge whether the person making the request is the individual to whom the personal data relates and/or is a person with parental responsibility for a child whose data is the subject of the request. This is to avoid personal data about one individual being sent to another, accidentally or as a result of deception. Evidence of identity may be established by production of:
 - passport
 - driving licence
 - utility bills with the current address
 - birth / marriage certificate
 - P45/P60
 - credit card or mortgage statement

2. Responding to a subject access request

- 2.1 The response time for subject access requests, once officially received, is one month (irrespective of school holidays). However, as set out above, the month will not commence until after receipt of evidence of identity or clarification of information sought.
- 2.2 When responding to a subject access request, we will:
 - 2.2.1 acknowledge receipt of your request and provide an indication of the likely timescale for a response within 7 calendar days;
 - 2.2.2 take all reasonable and proportionate steps to identify and disclose the data relating to the request;
 - 2.2.3 never delete information relating to a subject access request, unless it would have been deleted in the ordinary course of events;

- 2.2.4 consider whether to seek consent from any third parties which might be identifiable from the data being disclosed;
- 2.2.5 seek legal advice, where necessary, to determine whether we are required to comply with the request or supply the information sought;
- 2.2.6 provide a written response, including an explanation of the types of data provided and whether and for what reasons any data has been withheld;
- 2.2.7 ensure that information disclosed is clear and technical terms are clarified and explained.

3. Circumstances where we may refuse a subject access request

We are not required to comply with a subject access request in relation to:

- 3.1.1 confidential references given by us for employment or educational purposes;
- 3.1.2 personal data processed in connection with management forecasting or planning if it would prejudice the conduct of our business;
- 3.1.3 personal data subject to legal professional privilege;
- 3.1.4 information which may cause serious harm to the physical or mental health or emotional condition of a child or another, or which would reveal that a child is at risk of abuse, or information relating to court proceedings.
- 3.1.5 Where a request is manifestly unfounded or excessive.

3.2 We are also not required to supply the information requested if:

- 3.2.1 the data requested is not available;
- 3.2.2 it would involve disproportionate effort to disclose the information requested;
- 3.2.3 an identical or similar request has been made by the same individual previously, unless a reasonable interval has elapsed between the previous and the current request. In determining whether a 'reasonable interval' has elapsed, we will have regard to the nature of the data, the purpose for which the data is processed and the frequency with which the data is altered;
- 3.2.4 we cannot comply with the request without disclosing information relating to another individual who can be identified from that information, unless:
 - (a) the other individual has consented to the disclosure of the information, or;
 - (b) it is reasonable in all the circumstances to comply with the request without the consent of the other individual; in determining whether it is reasonable in all the circumstances to comply with the request without the consent of the other individual concerned, we shall have regard shall be had to any duty of confidentiality owed to the other individual and any express refusal of consent by the other individual.

3.3 In order to provide the whole or some of the information requested, we may undertake redaction (information blacked out/removed) of one or more documents. An explanation of why we have redacted the information will be provided.

If we refuse the request, we will tell you why your request has been refused and that you have the right to complain to the supervisory authority and to a judicial remedy. We will provide you with this information within one month and without undue delay.
